Course Name: Reggae: History of Jamaican Music
Course Number: MUS 102
Term Offered: Spring 2018
Credits: 3

Course Description
This 3-credit hour course is survey traces the roots of Jamaican music, which has become known as Reggae, from just prior to Jamaica's Independence from Great Britain in 1962 starting with the American R & B influenced Ska, through Rock Steady, Dub, Roots Rock, Reggae, DJs, Toasting, and through the early turn of the millennium. We will look at key musicians, producers and performers, as well as examine key social and political events that helped shape this great music. When possible, video clips, audio clips and other media will be used to tell the story of this rapidly changing, wide reaching music.

There are no prerequisites for this class.

Course Credits
This course combines approximately 50 hours of instruction, online activities, and assignments for 3 credits.

Measurable Student Learning Outcomes

Baccalaureate Course Category Learning Outcomes:

This course fulfills the Baccalaureate Core Perspectives category in Literature and the Arts. It does so by tracking the historical and cultural influences of Jamaican music and culture. Students successfully completing this course will be able to:

1. Recognize literary and artistic forms/styles, techniques, and the cultural/historical contexts in which they evolve.

   This is covered in part through the listening journals. By listening critically to song structure, along with lyrics and artists background, you will be able to place the music within a larger structure and social context. With each listening, the paragraph answer must cover items such as sound (instruments, style of singing) feel of the music (is this dancing, social commentary, background music) and sub-genre in the Jamaican popular music (ska, toasting, roots etc…). Listening journals also ask each student to note the previous styles or influences they hear in the music as it grows and evolves. Example: Instrumental Ska resembles big band jazz in the size of ensemble, make up of instruments, and emphasis on improvised solos.. The listening journals reflects and train students for listening portion of each test.

2. Analyze how literature/the arts reflect, shape, and influence culture.

   Through class discussions we will discuss and incorporate the cultural significance of the music/genre. Test questions reveal the your understanding of the material by requiring you to identify artists and genres and to be able to place both within the cultural context.

3. Reflect critically on the characteristics and effects of literary and artistic works.

   Both the midterm and the final exam has a listening portion where you will be asked to identify the artist, genre and musical characteristics that you hear. The importance of placing the “sound” and “feel” of the music into the appropriate category is critical to the understanding of music. Additionally, the essay portion of each quiz will provide you the opportunity to reflect critically on the characteristics of the artist, music and cultural context of their work in a particular genre.

Additional measurable Student Learning Outcomes

This course is offered through Oregon State University Extended Campus. For more information visit: http://ecampus.oregonstate.edu.
1. Students will have an understanding of what Reggae music is, where it has been and where it is going.

2. Students will have a general knowledge of key artists; identifying their music and contributions to Reggae music.

3. Students will be able to distinguish between the historical stages of Reggae music, and identify the era and historical events associated with each stage.

4. Students will be able to listen to Reggae music, on a much deeper level, integrating the historical, sociological and biographical knowledge they gain from the coursework.

Course Policies

Discussion Participation
A discussion topic is posted for each week of the course, please have your initial post up by the end of Wednesday night, and a follow up post by the end of the following Sunday night. Commenting on someone else’s post you find interesting or challenging. In order to receive maximum points for this area, you must post at least two entries on the discussion board per week. This is a fun way to further explore the material with your classmates!

Late Work Policy
Late work will not be accepted unless approved and cleared with the instructor prior to the due date of work.

Makeup Exams
Makeup exams will be given only for missed exams excuse in advance by the instructor. Excused absences will not be given for airline reservations, routine illness (colds, flu, stomach aches), or other common ailments. Excused absences will generally not be given after the absence has occurred, except under very unusual circumstances.

Incompletes
Incomplete (I) grades will be granted only in emergency cases (usually only for a death in the family, major illness or injury, or birth of your child), and if the student has turned in 80% of the points possible (in other words, usually everything but the final paper). If you are having any difficulty that might prevent you completing the coursework, please don’t wait until the end of the term; let me know right away.

Guidelines for a Productive and Effective Online Classroom

Tutoring and Writing Assistance

NetTutor is a leading provider of online tutoring and learner support services fully staffed by experienced, trained and monitored tutors. Students connect to live tutors from any computer that has Internet access. NetTutor provides a virtual whiteboard that allows tutors and students to work on problems in a real time environment. They also have an online writing lab where tutors critique and return essays within 24 to 48 hours. Access NetTutor from within your Canvas class by clicking on the Tools button in your course menu.

The Oregon State Online Writing Lab (OWL) is also available for students enrolled in Ecampus courses.

Student Evaluation of Courses

The online Student Evaluation of Teaching system opens to students the Monday of dead week and closes the Monday following the end of finals. Students receive notification, instructions and the link through their ONID. They may also log into the system via Online Services. Course evaluation results are extremely important and used to help improve courses and the online learning experience for future students. Responses are anonymous (unless a student chooses to “sign” their comments, agreeing to relinquish anonymity) and unavailable to instructors until after grades have been posted. The results of scaled questions and signed comments go to both the instructor and their unit head/supervisor. Anonymous (unsigned) comments go to the instructor only.
