NOTE to prospective students: This syllabus is intended to provide students who are considering taking this course an idea of what they will be learning. A more detailed syllabus will be available on the course Blackboard site for enrolled students and may be more current than this sample syllabus.

Course Name: American Constitutional Law
Course Number: 321
Credits:
Instructor name: Daniel Andersen
Instructor email: andersed@oregonstate.edu

Course Description
This course is the first in a series (though it may be taken independently) on American Constitutional Law (PS 321, 322, 323). It is focused primarily on issues of the power, reach, and interactions of branches of the Federal Government, as well as the interactions between the Federal Government and individuals. Issues such as the limits on executive and legislative power, federalism, and the changing reading of the commerce clause will be central. As such, the course will focus most heavily on Supreme Court rulings up to the early 20th century, but also connect to contemporary issues facing the Court and the Federal Government more generally.

Communication
Please post all course-related questions in the General Discussion Forum so that the whole class may benefit from our conversation. Please email your instructor for matters of a personal nature. The instructor will reply to course-related questions and email within 24-48 hours.

Technical Assistance
If you experience computer difficulties, need help downloading a browser or plug-in, assistance logging into the course, or if you experience any errors or problems while in your online course, contact the OSU Help Desk for assistance. You can call (541) 737-3474, email osuhelpdesk@oregonstate.edu or visit the OSU Computer Helpdesk online.

Learning Resources
There is 1 book required for purchase for the course, as well as further readings that will be made available on the course website. The required book is:

Note to prospective students: Please check with the OSU Bookstore for up-to-date information for the term you enroll (http://osubeaverstore.com/Academics/) or 800-595-0357). If you purchase course materials from other sources, be very careful to obtain the correct ISBN.
Blackboard

This course will be delivered via Blackboard where you will interact with your classmates and with your instructor. Within the course Blackboard site you will access the learning materials, such as the syllabus, class discussions, assignments, projects, and quizzes. Measurable Student Learning Outcomes

1. Examine historical and recent trends and jurisprudence dealing with government powers and constraints.
2. Understand the role of the law and precedents as they affect the role and place in society.
3. Evaluate data and evidence regarding the influence of the law on the continued struggle over power within our government.
4. Analyze legal arguments for their consistency, logic, and consequences.
5. Apply skills learned through readings and discussion to current issues and legal problems in the field.
6. Synthesize the scholarly reading with the case law to generalize the past and current subtleties in the changing circumstances before the law.
7. Articulate legal arguments in writing.

Evaluation of Student Performance

Your grade in the course will consist of:

1) Six test/quizzes (usually an essay) that come at the end of each 'Unit' of material in the course (Starting with Unit 2). 10% each, 60% of the total grade
2) Your discussion board participation (not related to the final project), again, once per unit for the first 5 units, 2% each, 10% of the total grade
3) A final (moot court) project involving collaboration on the discussion board (10% of this assignment) and two written components (20% of this assignment), 30% total

Course Policies

Late Work

Full credit for late work will only be given if the missed due date has been excused in advance by the instructor. Partial credit for late work will be based on a 5% deduction per day from the total grade.
Statement Regarding Students with Disabilities
Accommodations are collaborative efforts between students, faculty and Disability Access Services (DAS) with accommodations approved through DAS are responsible for contacting the faculty member in charge of the course prior to or during the first week of the term to discuss accommodations. Students who believe they are eligible for accommodations but who have not yet obtained approval through DAS should contact DAS immediately at 541-737-4098.

Expectations for Student Conduct
Student conduct is governed by the university’s policies, as explained in the Office of Student Conduct: Information and Regulations.

Academic Integrity
Students are expected to comply with all regulations pertaining to academic honesty. For further information, visit Avoiding Academic Dishonesty, or contact the office of Student Conduct and Mediation at 541-737-3656.

OAR 576-015-0020 (2) Academic or Scholarly Dishonesty:

a) Academic or Scholarly Dishonesty is defined as an act of deception in which a Student seeks to claim credit for the work or effort of another person, or uses unauthorized materials or fabricated information in any academic work or research, either through the Student's own efforts or the efforts of another.

b) It includes:

(i) CHEATING - use or attempted use of unauthorized materials, information or study aids, or an act of deceit by which a Student attempts to misrepresent mastery of academic effort or information. This includes but is not limited to unauthorized copying or collaboration on a test or assignment, using prohibited materials and texts, any misuse of an electronic device, or using any deceptive means to gain academic credit.

(ii) FABRICATION - falsification or invention of any information including but not limited to falsifying research, inventing or exaggerating data, or listing incorrect or fictitious references.

(iii) ASSISTING - helping another commit an act of academic dishonesty. This includes but is not limited to paying or bribing someone to acquire a test or assignment, changing someone's grades or academic records, taking a test/doing an assignment for someone else by any means, including misuse of an electronic device. It is a violation of Oregon state law to create and offer to sell part or all of an educational assignment to another person (ORS 165.114).

(iv) TAMPERING - altering or interfering with evaluation instruments or documents.

(v) PLAGIARISM - representing the words or ideas of another person or presenting someone else's words, ideas, artistry or data as one's own, or using one's own previously submitted work. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to copying another person's work (including unpublished material) without appropriate referencing, presenting someone else's opinions and theories as one's own, or working jointly on a project and then submitting it as one's own.

c) Academic Dishonesty cases are handled initially by the academic units, following the process outlined in the University's Academic Dishonesty Report Form, and will also be referred to SCCS for action under these rules.

Conduct in this Online Classroom
Students are expected to conduct themselves in the course (e.g., on discussion boards, email postings) in compliance with the university's regulations regarding civility.

Tutoring
NetTutor is a leading provider of online tutoring and learner support services fully staffed by experienced, trained and monitored tutors. Students connect to live tutors from any computer that has Internet access. NetTutor provides a virtual whiteboard that allows tutors and students to work on problems in a real time environment. They also have an online writing lab where tutors critique and return essays within 24 to 48 hours. Access NetTutor from within your Blackboard class by clicking on the Tools button in your course menu.

OSU Student Evaluation of Teaching
Course evaluation results are extremely important and are used to help me improve this course and the learning experience of future students. Results from the 19 multiple choice questions are tabulated anonymously and go directly to instructors and department heads. Student comments on the open-ended questions are compiled and confidentially forwarded to each instructor, per OSU procedures. The online Student Evaluation of Teaching form will be available toward the end of each term, and you will be sent instructions via ONID by the Office of Academic Programs, Assessment, and Accreditation. You will log in to “Student Online Services” to respond to the online questionnaire. The results on the form are anonymous and are not tabulated until after grades are posted.
